The Crusader
2014-2015

Most of you will never read these words. However, every year as editor of the Crusader Yearbook I find myself wanting to send a message to you. The culture of yearbooks changes from elementary school, to high school, to university. A tradition where once you anxiously awaited your friends' written messages, flipping pages to find pictures of yourself and others, and showing your yearbook proudly to family may not now seem as important. But I know as time travels forward, there will come a time when you'll want to remember. The people, the places, the professors, the events that helped make you who you are, will be waiting for you here. The yearbook staff prays today as we pray every year, that you are blessed by these memories and happy with this memento.

As this is my last year as editor, I'd like to thank you all for the memories you've given me at this school. I'm happy to see the yearbook embark on a new journey with a new editor, but I'm sad to see it go as well.

God's blessings on you now and forever.

Alma Mater

William Carey, we will love thee,
Loyal we will be;
And we sing thy praises;
Hail, all hail to thee.
Lifting high the light of knowledge,
Answering the clarion call.
Thou hast made thy sons and daughters,
Staunch crusaders all.
Thou has taught us love and honor,
Taught us truth and right.
While fitting every new crusader,
With thine armor bright.
May the God, who made thee worthy,
Keep the every truthly free;
May His spirit, Alma Mater,
Ever dwell with thee.

William Carey University President

Dr. Tommy King

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

To the Class of 2015:

The theme for this year has been "Actions, not words" based on James 1:22 and we have seen many instances of our students putting this theme into practice as they have excelled in academics, athletics, the arts and spiritual development. The mission statement for William Carey University says that we will provide quality programs in a caring Christian community and that we will encourage our students to develop in scholarship, leadership and service. It was our goal during this school year to be guided by these principles in all that we have done.

This has been a remarkable year. You will look back on 20014-2015 with pride in the years to come. We have completed construction of a new men's residence hall which will be named Futral Hall in honor of the Executive Director of the Mississippi Baptist Convention. In addition, we have enjoyed the beautiful Bass Memorial Chapel and completed renovation of several buildings to house offices.

This has also been a year of spiritual growth and development. Students have been involved in Bible study, mission trips and service projects throughout the year. Many lives have been changed as a result of these activities. The friendships which you have made at Carey will enrich your lives as long as you live.

I know that each of you will be focused on establishing your career, starting a family and paying off student loans. Let me encourage you to stay in touch with your alma mater and when you reach the station in your life and career that you consider supporting Carey so we can continue to offer scholarships to future students and make the progress necessary for success. Remember William Carey's motto: "Expect great things from God; Attempt great things for God."

God bless.
Tommy King
President

SPITFIRE GRILL
JUNE 12 2014

"The Spitfire Grill" tells the heart-warming journey of Percy, a young woman just released from prison, who starts life over in a small American town. Percy and the locals share drama, family secrets, gossip and forgiveness in frequently funny, sometimes touching encounters. The Associated Press describes "Spitfire" as "a lovely musical in the Rodgers and Hammerstein tradition," and the New York Times called it "a soul satisfying work of theatrical resourcefulness". "Spitfire" was written by James Valcq with lyrics and book by Fred Alley, and is based on the film by Lee David Zlotoff.

July 16, 2014

The William Carey University Quality of Life (QLP) Project is a program that pairs students with adults with intellectual developmental disabilities to engage in activities designed to enrich their lives. This past year the group visited Memphis, Tennessee to see the National Civil Rights Museum and tour Graceland. The program is funded through The Greater PineBelt Community Foundation's Ann Morris Memorial Fund, which was set up by John Morris to honor the life of John's late daughter, Ann, who was mentally disabled. The QLP also attended the Carey Dinner Theatre production of "Pump Boys and Dinettes," and Hattiesburg Civic Light Opera's "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat."

Tatum Court Centennial Celebration
August 26, 2014

A centennial celebration was held on August 26 for Tatum Court, the administration building of William Carey University. The Colonial-style building was completed in 1914 at a cost of $312,982.09. The building was funded through a generous gift from W. S. F. Tatum, a wealthy local Methodist lumberman and early benefactor of WCU's predecessor, Mississippi Woman's College. In its original configuration, Tatum Court boasted the largest auditorium in Hattiesburg along with classrooms, laboratories, a gymnasium, a library and a swimming pool on the ground floor. The building, which has been renovated on five occasions since its completion 100 years ago, is now the oldest surviving building on the WCU campus. During the celebration, Dr. Tommy King, president of WCU, made remarks on the significance of the building as an icon not only for the university but also for the Hattiesburg area. He also welcomed members of the Tatum family. Dr. Myron Noonkester, professor of history and dean of the Noonkester School of Arts and Letters, offered words of remembrance about the building and the significance it has had for his family and others.

New Chapel Dedication August 27, 2014

The Caroline and Ray Bass Memorial Chapel at William Carey University was dedicated on August 27, 2014. the chapel, located behind Chain Garden on the university's Hattiesburg campus, was completed earlier this year. It will seat approximately 100 people for various functions, such as small religious services, and will also be open daily for use by students, faculty and staff for meditation and reflection.

Dr. King with the Bass Family

Dr. Tommy King, president of WCU, welcomed guests and recognized those who made the construction of the chapel possible. He also welcomed members of the Bass family. The chapel is named for the late Caroline and Ray Bass, who gave the lead gift for the chapel's construction.

Steve Knight Induction
September 26, 2014

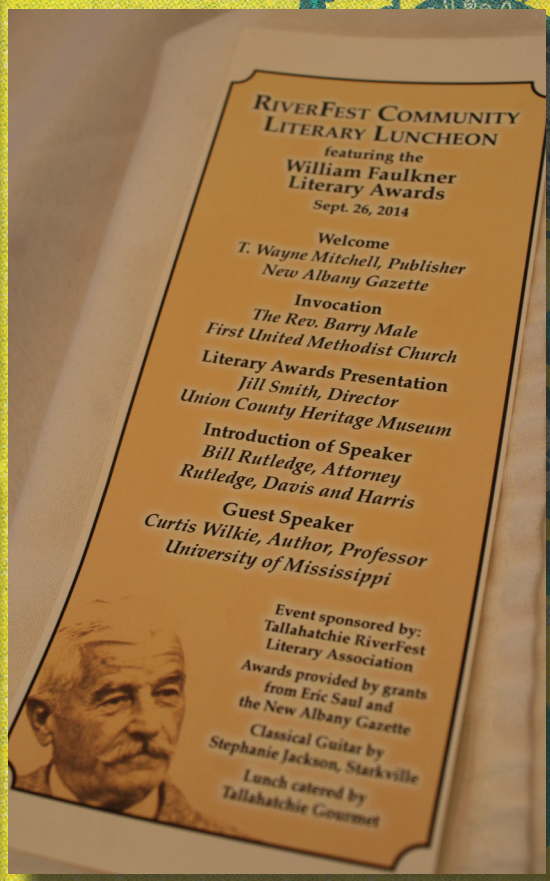

Steve Knight, athletic director and head men's basketball coach at William Carey University, is one of six selected for the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame Class of 2015. A reception for Knight, hosted by WCU President Dr. Tommy King, will be held from 4 until 6 p.m. on Thursday, October 2 at the President's Meeting Room in Wilkes Hall on the Hattiesburg campus. Knight is Mississippi's all-time winningest basketball coach at the same four-year institution with 590 wins. Last season, Knight guided the Crusaders to a 28-3 record and the 2014 Southern States Athletic Conference championship. He was also named Men's Basketball National Coach of the Year by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics/National Basketball Coaches' Association. Knight is joined in the Class of 2015 by NFL superstar Brett Favre; NBA standout Clarence Weatherspoon; two-time All-SEC running back Mike Dennis; Mississippi College and Saints champion Fred McAfee; and pioneer of Mississippi women's sports Gwen White. The induction ceremony for the 2015 class will be held on August 1, 2015.

Deanna Graves wins William Faulkner Literary Award September 26, 2014

Deanna Graves, admissions application manager at William Carey University, was awarded the William Faulkner Literary Award for Best One Act Play at the Tallahatchie RiverFest Kickoff Community Luncheon in New Albany on September 26. The award is given by the event's sponsor, the Tallahatchie RiverFest Association. Graves' play, titled "Rhubarb," was selected as the winner among entries from 17 states as well as Brazil and New Zealand. "Rhubarb" was inspired by Graves' late grandfather, Houston Rainey of Moselle. The play will be produced by the association's Tallahatchie River Players in 2015. It will also be produced by WCU's Serampore Players and Alpha Psi Omega in the spring. Graves, of Seminary, received a $600 cash prize and a certificate.

The Drive to Inspire Breast Cancer Awareness Car Visits WCU October 14, 2014

Students, faculty and staff signed the "Drive to Inspire" pink 2015 Hyundai Sonata at WCU on October 15. Dr. Ben Burnett signed the car in honor of his wife, Denice Burnett, who is currently battling breast cancer. The car, sponsored by Forrest General Hospital, Mack Grubbs Hyundai, Carter's Jewelry and Comcast Spotlight, is parked at over 500 locations in South Mississippi during the month of October to highlight breast cancer awareness month. The pubic is invited to sign the car in honor or in memory of a breast cancer patient or in support of research and awareness.

Knights of Jazz
October 14, 2014

The WCU Jazz Knights music group performs throughout the year at various events both on campus and off. Call Knight of Jazz, these performances feature the students performing well-known jazz tunes under the direction of Dr. Jim Pierce, Chairman of the WCU Music Therapy program. Jazz Band is a big band instrumental ensemble that performs the broad spectrum of jazz, blues, funk, and swing music.

Aesops Fables
December 11, 2015

The William Carey University Theatre will present "Adventures from Aesop's Fables," adapted by Jeanna Graves and Deanna Graves. The play takes 13 of Aesop's 284 morality stories and presents them for children. Morals include "Honesty is the best policy," "Don't judge a book by its cover," "There are two sides to every story" and "Real friends are faithful in good times and bad." The production is entirely student designed. "The student designers are mentored by their peers," said O. L. Quave, director of the play and professor emeritus at WCU. "The students collaborate to bring Aesop's world to life. The sets, masks, lights and sound create this world as if seen through a child's eyes." "Because the actors are playing multiple roles, the use of masks and other elements are important to bringing the animals to life," said Jeanna Graves. "It's like watching a pop-up book come to life. We want our audience, especially the children, to have their imaginations inspired."

Women's Testimony Night
January 29, 2015

A women's testimony night was held at William Carey University, with the goal of helping female students realize the words of Ephesians 3:18 and "grasp how wide and long and high and deep is the love of Christ." The event, organized by Carey senior Ashley Huntington of Slidell, La., was held in the Student Conference Center on the Hattiesburg campus and welcomed over 150 female students. Carey students, including senior Lana Pol of Pascagoula, sophomore Meg Edney of Vicksburg and junior Nicole Yates of Lucedale, shared their testimonies of God's work in their lives. Also sharing her testimony was 2014 alumna Macie Foreman of Rayne, La., who works with the Pine Belt Fellowship of Christian Athletes. In addition to the sharing of testimonies, the evening's activities also included door prizes, desserts and worship through music.

Bocon
February 11, 2015

William Carey University presented Lisa Loomer's "Bocon", an award-winning fable filled with humor and enchantment as an all student directed, acted and designed performances. The fable, written in response to the turmoil in Central America during the late 1980s, tells the story of the 12 year-old Miguel, an irrepressible "bocon" (the Spanish word for big mouth). Miguel, a natural storyteller, loses his voice when his parents are taken away by a military regime. He then begins a metaphorical journey north to Los Angeles. The journey shows Miguel meeting a host of dangerous magical spirits and again finding his voice along with the courage to cross the border into a new life.

A Lesson Before Dying
February 22, 2015

The play tells the story of Jefferson, an innocent young man, condemned to death in Louisiana in 1948. He is held prisoner by Sheriff Guidry and Deputy Bonin. At the trial, his lawyer, trying to avoid the death penalty, calls him no more a human being than a hog. Jefferson, distraught by the statement, begins to let go of his humanity and acts like one. He insists that he will have to be dragged like a hog to his death in the electric chair. His godmother Emma asks the schoolteacher, Grant Wiggins to teach him how to die like a man. Mr. Wiggins, who is struggling with his commitment to his poor parish school, longs to leave the South. He is forced to face both Jefferson and himself as execution day arrives. Grant's girlfriend Vivian and the Rev. Ambrose contribute to the conflict. Based off of the celebrated novel by the same name, "A Lesson Before Dying" is a gripping, moving and finally devastating play.
